
The Journal of Forensic Vocational Analysis

Official Publication of the American Board of Vocational Experts

Guidelines for Authors

The Journal of Forensic Vocational Analysis' purpose is to explore and explicate total issues of interest to the vocational expert and practitioner; it is a journal that members of the American Board of Vocational Experts and other forensic practitioners may find both intellectually useful and more importantly, applicable to their forensic practice.

The Journal of Forensic Vocational Analysis seeks to publish original articles that are based on sound research methodology in accordance with the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (6th edition). In addition to the publication of original manuscripts, the Journal regularly features book reviews and commentaries. Occasional special issues that focus on a selected topic of interest to the membership as well as monographs may be published. Two issues of the Journal will be published each year.

Manuscripts representative of the following topical areas are especially desired:

- Conceptual and empirical manuscripts relevant to medical, economic, psychological, sociological, and rehabilitation principles and practices vis-à-vis vocational forensic issues.
- Methodologies of economic calculations in forensic practice, inclusive of calculations for loss of earning capacity and other monetary impacts regarding loss associated with disability acquired through product liability, malpractice, or trauma.
- Research and development in the areas of forensic practice including quantitative and qualitative studies relevant to the interdisciplinary nature of vocationology.
- Issues related to updated judicial protocol and procedures, relevance of decisions, and the impact of judicial proceedings on practice.
- Development of protocols for forensic expert testimony.

Proposals for the development of a special issue, monograph, or book or media reviews should be directed to the Editor. These proposals will be considered by selected members of the Editorial Board with the appropriate content expertise. Manuscripts will be reviewed by at least three members of the Editorial Board who will (1) recommend publication to the manuscript as presented or (2) recommend publication with revisions or (3) not recommend publication. Feedback to authors submitting manuscripts not recommended for publication will directly refer to the major gaps or problems within the submitted document with recommendations for future submission.

All submitted manuscripts must be prepared in accordance with the guidelines of the Publications Manual of the American Psychological Association (6th edition, 2009). Do not submit manuscripts that are under review by other periodicals or that have been previously published. There is no prohibition to the acceptance of previously published material provided prior permission has been obtained from the copyright holder and only when such articles/monographs may be more fully dispersed as deemed by the Board of Directors of the American Board of Vocational Experts.

It is the preference of the Editor that all manuscripts be submitted electronically in Rich Text Format (rtf) to Chrisann Schiro-Geist, Ph.D., at chrisann@memphis.edu. E-mail your manuscript as an attachment without any identifying information in the filename. A cover page with all authors listed, addresses, e-mail and telephone numbers and other identifying information is required to be submitted as an attachment as well. Once received, an acknowledgment letter or e-mail will be transmitted to the submitting author or lead author. The review process will typically average approximately 60 days.
